Will call commuter hearing

Discontinuance of L and N commuter trains between Passa-waukege and New Orleans was announced for four months by order issued last Monday by the U. S. Interstate Commission, it was announced by Abe McGregor Goff, ICC chairman. The matter will be investigated by the commission and a public hearing conducted.

Regarding scheduling of a stop at Michoud, however, Goff said "the commission is not empowered to reopen the railroad to schedule stops on any particular line. Matters of this kind are either within the discretion of the railroad or, in some instances, are subject to control of the appropriate state railroad or utility commission."

The announcement was confirmed in a letter to Representative William M. Colmer from a copy of which was attached to a letter from Walter J. Glass, secretary of the House Committee on Rules, to Powell Jr., Hancock County Commissioner of Commerce president in response to a letter from Glass to Colmer asking Congressman's assistance in getting the ICC to hold a hearing on the L and N's plans to discontinue operation of the line.

In later development, Norman Johnson, chairman of the Mississippi Public Service Commission reaffirmed opinion last Thursday to the effect that he said it is not his duty to continue operation of the line.

After the Chambers of Commerce of both Hancock and Pass Christian, the Hancock County Board of Aldermen of Waveland, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County had joined the Coast Assn. in seeking to keep the commuter, L and N, trains 9 and 12, operating. In addition, petitions were written to the ICC, and Sen. D. Stennis and James Eastland.

Direct plans in 3 schools

Approval of architect's plans for the three school projects proposed by the county board of education was given Saturday.

The motion of Beat 5 to E. P. Orrie, the county commissioner, K. G. McCarty, architect, a letter informing him to prepare plans for the state on the state on classrooms, gymnasium and cafeteria plans for both elementary and high schools and a bus stop at North Central came after Wagner the next stages on the work require time and money so needed specific direction proceed. While Lamar Beat 2 expressed doubt going ahead until the board was assured, others took the view that something had to be done anyway and it was best to proceed.

Plans discussed informally the over-all county school situation including trying to increase Negro enrollment to qualify for a school and indications that Waveland might be interested in going into the county system. Trustee S. P.
Powell suggested that as soon as plans are available two or three men from each precinct be briefed on the program to help answer questions of the public on need for the bond issue.

Robert L. Hamilton, president of the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District trustees, and Superintendent J.
D. McCulloch appeared to inquire about tuition payments to the Bay system for county chil-

Bid schedule revised

Weather stalls MTO

Construction at Mississippi Test Operations was slowed to a proverbial snail's pace today by the slowly melting snow and best estimates were it would be at least Monday before work resumed in a normal fashion.
Most efforts were concentrated on trying to get into the various construction sites.
Number of personnel on the job was good, particularly in view of the hazardous roads, according to J. K. Glennon, press briefings officer for the Army Corps of Engineers.

Work halted about noon Tuesday at the request of NASA after the snowfall created road difficulties.

Meanwhile during the holiday week the Corps awarded a $3,711,226 contract to Nordberg Manufacturing Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., for supplying high pressure industrial water pumps.

The firm will design, manufacture, deliver and test 13 diesel-engine-driven pumping units, including auxiliary equipment, for installation in a pumping station which will furnish cooling water to prevent flame deflectors of the rocket test stands from melting during firing operations. Combined minimum capacity of pumping units will be 434,000 gallons per minute at a static head of 495 feet. Nordberg will complete delivery in August, 1965. Six firms bid for the contract Sept. 10.

Several bid opening dates scheduled in January have been revised by the Engineers with only those for the main canal and a supply contract for valves and filters now listed for Tuesday. Booster storage facility and marine terminal bids are now due Jan. 10.

Bids for construction of various roads, railroads and utilities are to be opened at the District office in Mobile Jan. 24.

This work now being advertised, which is expected to cost about $1,500,000, includes a main railroad line from the classification yard to the fuel storage area; a spur railroad line to the warehouse; road extensions to the administrative area and to the industrial water pump station; a temporary road from State Rt. 43 across the basculade bridge and back for use during the relocation of the highway; approach slabs, traffic control signals and traffic gates at the basculade bridge; three parking areas in the Saturn V test complex; power supply cable extensions; communication ducts to the date handling center; and additional water supply and sanitary sewer facilities in the support area.

Bidding will be restricted to small business concerns in the interest of assuring such firms a fair share of Government procurement.

Beach home donated to Christ school Property at 800 South Beach Blvd., which many years ago was occupied as the Klotz Hotel, has been donated to Christ Episcopal School in tribute to Mrs.

E. C. Samuel in recognition of her efforts in behalf of the school. Rev. Charles R. Johnson, headmaster, announced this week.

After not being used for a number of years it was acquired in 1942 by George Stevenson who, assisted by one employee, commenced renovation of the main building to provide living quarters for his family on the ground floor along with two apartments and four more apartments on the second floor.
The third floor was used mainly for storage.

"All of us connected with Christ Episcopal Day School are certainly most grateful to the donor for such an overwhelming vote of confidence in our work," Mr. Johnson declared. "It is a tremendous and well-deserved tribute to Mrs. Samuel who has indeed worked hard to help with the school from its inception 15 years ago."

Bay winterized

Record 10.5 in. snow

A history-making 10 1/2 inches of snow fell on Bay St.
Louis New Year's Eve turning the area into a magnificent winter wonderland and completely disrupting business activity while kids of all ages went out to delight in the occasion.

The official reading for the Bay was recorded by Brother Joel at the climatological observation station at St. Stanislaus College. It started falling about 4 a.m. Tuesday and by the 7 a.m. reading had accumulated three inches. The snow was the first appreciable amount recorded since two inches fell on Jan. 22, 1958.

It was the heaviest snow on the record books, according to Malcolm Moreau of Court Street who is the U. S. Weather Bureau's field aid for Mississippi and Louisiana observation posts. There hasn't been anything like it since 1900 and the books are scant before that date.

The weather bureau at Mississippi Test Operations formally reported seven inches, recording three inches by noon Tuesday and six when they closed shop at 4 p.m. The extra inch was added for good measure since the fall continued until almost 8 p.m. New Year's morning low temperature was 15 degrees, not unusually cold with that much snow cover on the ground. Early today it was down to 23 degrees and the forecast is for warming. Oddly enough last Friday was the warmest day of December with a reading of 70.

Brother Joel's record showed a high of 69 for Dec.
12 as the top temperature and a low of 20 on Dec. 24.

There were probably more snow men per capita in this area than any other town in the country Tuesday and the Echo offices were deluged with calls to record the event in pictures. But photography was complicated by snowflakes falling across the camera lens, into the focusing equipment, and the slushy streets. Virtually every store selling film was sold out before noon as residents sought to take pictures of their homes, the snowmen, kids at play and anything connected with the occasion.

The sun shone brightly New Year's Day and snowflakes were the order of the day as the white stuff lingered on the ground with the chilly temperatures. Most paved streets were cleared and traffic moved with little trouble.

Hardest hit of the utilities in the weather was Coast Electric Power Assn. which had service out for up to 18 hours in some isolated rural places.
Crews worked almost all night both New Year's Eve and Jan.
1 as lines were snarled by tree limbs burdened with snow and struck again as the branches slighted themselves after it thawed.

Go ahead!

To start off with we hope Bay St. Louis's city fathers proceed with their plan for providing us with a sewerage system, improved water system and a better gas system. We are not alone in this as shown by the typical comments at the meeting when Mr. Eugene Owen outlined the need and the engineer's proposed solution.

Of the three proposals over the last year, two of them near misses, it would provide better utility systems and, we think, on a financially better basis. This takes into consideration that on the two near misses federal assistance under the emergency public works program was hoped for but does not reflect our view that most of the time "gifts" from Uncle Sam cost the recipient dearly.

Nevertheless, we think certain financial aspects beyond those brought out previously need to be considered. On the favorable side is the fact that, all outstanding bonds included, Bay St. Louis has the lowest per capita bonded indebtedness of any Mississippi municipality. Without having computed the exact dollars and cents we are sure that if the voters OK the $3 million dollar bond issue we will be pretty near the top. Of course, in late 1963 we are on the verge of providing what many did a long time ago. Where sewerage is concerned for instance, Ocean Springs has it, Biloxi has it, Gulfport has it, Long Beach has it, Piquette has it, Slidell has it, and Pass Christian is considering it.

Another not so pleasant aspect is our City's general fund. On the surface the only tax involved in the proposed bond issue is the one-half cent increase in sales tax. Under the surface is the fact that from the profits of our gas system a considerable sum has been put into the general fund each year. With approval of the bond issue that nicely stops. Either the city raises that amount from increased millage, which it cannot because the maximum 15 mills is already levied, or by raising assessments, which probably should be done anyhow, or some of the general fund services will have to be curtailed.

There are other brighter sides to the picture but even with the pessimistic approach we have taken our answer is: "Go ahead! Go ahead!" (Admiral Farragut at Mobile Bay).

Humble Oil test on original site

Latest oil exploration in Hancock County is on a part of the first block of acreage assembled in Mississippi for the drilling of a test in search for oil and gas, according to the Southeastern Oil Review.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. has scheduled for a depth of 14,500 feet deep test No. 1 Gas B, Baldwin, Jr., et al. 2 SW NW Section 1-10S-16W, also spotting five miles southwest of Anasley. There have been no previous tests of comparable depth in the immediate area.

One and three-quarter miles northeast of new state, Marshall B. Young Drilling Co. and Associates drilled No. 1 Gas B, Baldwin, Jr., et al. NW Section 31-9S-15W. Bottomed at 11,158 feet, no show was reported and hole was abandoned in March, 1956.

Geological markers picked from electric log run from elevation 18 feet included Ht. 5435, Witcox 5652, Chalk 8345, Base Chalk 8683, Lower Tuscaloosa 9418 and Massive Sand 9619 feet.

The oil review relates that a 15,000 acre block was leased in 1901 in the name of Mississippi Land and Abstract Co., the name under which M. P. Bouslog first began abstract business in the state.

W. H. Bouslog, father of M. P. Bouslog and resident of Bay St. Louis, drilled the state's first test well on this block at a point near the right-of-way of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, about a mile east of the townsite of Anasley.

The elder Bouslog formed a corporation known as Hancock County Oil Co. and contract was signed with Fred Banderet, oil well driller of Beaumont, Texas, to drill the test well. Upon reaching a depth of approximately 1386 feet, the rig's capacity was exhausted and further operations were discontinued.

The New Orleans chemist to whom W. H. Bouslog sent cuttings from the well for analysis reported that the last samples sent to him from a depth of about 1350 feet showed "traces of hydrocarbons and sulphur."

Humble Oil is also drilling at 14,732 feet and will deepen to 15,000 feet in No. 1, H. W. Weston Lumber Co., C NW SE Sec. 6-9-15W for which Empire Drilling Co. is contractor.

Miss Clark took a pair of seconds and a first to win the GP-14 class over Bill Pitcairn, also from Bay-Waveland.

Local skipper Bill Reeves lead the fish class race of Champions Saturday with a win over Gilbert Gray of Southern and Ben Case of New Orleans Yacht Club but Case came back Sunday to take the three-race series over eight other club champions.

William J. Ladner, 80, of Clermont Harbor died Dec. 27 at Hancock General Hospital. Surviving are one son, Leonard Ladner of Clermont Harbor; a daughter, Mrs. E. Ladner Mollere of New Orleans, and one brother, Calvin Ladner of Gulfport.

Palbearers were Lloyd Bourgeois, Thom Thum, Lester LaFrance, Newell Ladner, Albert Garcia and Sylvia Carver.

Teen Times

We won't be starting the New Year in a very propitious fashion due to the holiday season. In other words our New Year's party news will also be a week late as we're just now catching up on our Christmas report.

The weather man relented and produced an almost balmy day which enabled just about everyone in town to dash here and there displaying their loot. Linda and Gail Koch are proud owners of a shiny new bright red Stingray; Allison Treles now possesses her very own automobile, also red. Tiger and Rhett Glass returned home in more comfortable style than in which they arrived for their holiday visit. They drove off in Tiger's "new" car, a gift from her father.

Gene Ferry gifted best girl Mary Lou Herlihy with a lovely wrist watch; Brother Penrose's gift to Judy Favre was a beautiful cross and chain.

Charlotte Price is busy learning to play her guitar. Carolyn Zeigler received a hair dryer and lots of new clothes; Martha and Amy Lynch also received new wardrobes, as did Margie Lenfant, who was also gifted with a new bedroom suite.

Hope Sewell got clothes, new furniture and "gadgets" while her brother Jay is out to make his first million with a fancy yard sweeper and gardening tools.

Elen and Carol Western are enjoying new stereos and more sisters, Caroline and Sharon Redding received among gifts, transistor radios.

Jackie Toomey tried out his new gun Thursday and the Mayfield boys have been using their duck hunting equipment almost daily.

Jeannie Rutherford's big gift was a biology kit; she also got a lovely robe and slipper set and other clothing. J. D., a student at Southern received a sweater, etc., and younger brother Jimmy, his own multi-net.

Cheryl Meredith has a very fancy hair dryer as does Paula Crider.

Don't know what Santa brought Corky Schindler and Bert Taylor, but hear that they feasted on pickled pig's feet Christmas Eve!

Al Grass and Alvin Bourgeois counted leaves from Uncle Sam's army their most special present. Al's stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas; Alvin at Fort Polk, La.

Faye Monti bowls just as well as she plays ball. Faye racked up a whopping 215 in Miss Fits league play last Thursday night.

Gary Burrow is obviously enjoying his holiday from the University of Southern Mississippi—he was squiring not one but two gorgeous females last Sunday. Albert Brignac is doing alright also. He only had one date but she was a doll.

Lars Phillips is one lucky young man, he emerged with only lacerations and bruises when he was thrown through the windshield of his car returning home from Ole Miss for Christmas. The automobile hit an icy stretch of pavement and the car hit a tree head on. The car was a total wreck but fortunately he was able to enjoy the holidays although it took him several days to recover his clothing which highway patrolmen had removed for safe keeping.

Sue Porter was also scrounging around looking for something to wear. Her wardrobe was left in Vicksburg when she came in for the holidays.

One of the most fabulous Christmas vacations was Gail Stewart's trip to Mexico although she had a frantic time getting on her way. She left Ole Miss late Friday but was delayed by snow in North Mississippi. When she finally arrived home around 4 a.m. she had just time to pack bathing suits, shorts and other tropical attire before catching the early train to New Orleans from which she departed by jet. . .

Ricky Hayes, USN, surprised his grandmother, Mrs. Forrest Travira, with a 20-day leave during the holidays. He spent some time also in New Orleans visiting an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Travira, Jr., and a cousin, Forrest, III, before leaving Dec. 27 to rejoin his ship.

MTO impact study

Sales to double

Retail sales and miscellaneous services totaling $20,100,207 are predicted for Bay St. Louis and Waveland during 1968 according to the resources study of seven cities in the MTO impact area recently released by the Bureau of Business and Economic Research, University of Southern Mississippi.

These estimates do not take into account any possible multiplier effects of the impact of MTO but only the direct effect itself of the huge government installation.

Retail sales for Bay St. Louis are estimated to be $13,928,306 by 1968, up 109

Mr. Bilbo. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gus Thomas.

per cent from 1961's $6,661,944 while Waveland's sales are predicted to be $4,859,716, up 144 per cent from $1,988,321 in 1961.

Cost of miscellaneous services in Bay St. Louis in 1968 should be $997,172, if the report is correct, with Waveland spending $320,013. These figures compare with $301,089 and $89,863 for the two municipalities in 1961 and show per cent increases of 231 and 256 respectively.

During the same period retail sales in Piquette are anticipated to grow from $11,338,611 to $22,599,687; in Pass Christian from $4,390,920 to $9,989,319; in Long Beach from $3,428,174 to $18,605,712; and in Gulfport from $64,624,288 to $97,224,801.

Jeanne and Fred Lister, Mrs. Marjorie "Maureen" LaViolette and children and Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Kucera and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gundry (he's Lister's brother) and daughter and Webster Terrebonne joined the Wymers for an oyster dinner Sunday.

Gripe comes Maybe we're just a little old, but find the fire as loud and more annoying than ever this year. We realize that the kids get a temporary kick out of the bang-gang, but just read the papers and see how many eyes, fingers and even lives are lost each year by careless use of rockets, bombs and large firecrackers. Sparklers are not as noisy or exciting, but they're a heck of a lot safer! More Christmas gifts...

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS J. HOLZHAUSER

Joe Vignerie surprised Pat with a gorgeous diamond bracelet; Kitty Mollere won't be complaining about the cold weather. . . she found not one nor two, but three new coats under her Yale tree; Scotty Taylor gave wife Pat a lovely gold charm bracelet and Jack Holm presented Winnie with the clearest gold charm we've seen in ages in addition to a beautiful white and gold hostess outfit. Incidentally, Winnie and Jack celebrated 37 years of wedded bliss New Year's day.

The wedding of lovely Jerelyn Jones and Melvin (Buddie) Wilson was beautifully solemnized Sunday afternoon although, due to the fact that Buddie must return to San Diego Friday, all arrangements were made in a scant 48 hours. Jerelyn wore a winter white wool suit accented with a tiny veiled hat of deep turquoise and matching shoes. Her matron of honor, her sister Mrs. James Ginn chose a sheath of moss green. Louis Lader was his nephew's best man, Grace (Mrs. Lionel) Bordages, mother of the groom wore a beige silk shantung suit with pink stole; Myrtle (Mrs. R. L.) Jones chose a two piece winter white wool suit with matching hat. Lottie (Mrs. Garfield) Lader, the groom's grandmother, wore a brown print silk sheath with matching accessories. Their corsages were of tiny yellow rosebuds. The Jones' home on Jeff Davis Avenue was the scene of the reception afterwards. Christmas decorations were used throughout the house and a large number of guests milled about the enormous white floor-to-ceiling high tree covered with pink ornaments. Some of those present included "Nookie" and Louis Jacobi, Joyce and Carl Lader, Tas and Chris Lader, Elaine Davis, Ray Bordages, Kay Dorich, J. P. Compretta, Shirley and Roland LaFontaine, Gladys and Harry Baxter, Helen Bordages, Norman Souler, Alvin Bourgeois and a lot of friends and relatives from New Orleans, Algiers and other cities.

The thaw brought out a number of weekenders. . . guess lots came hoping not to find broken pipes! Some were the C. W. von der Helden, the William Callenders, Jeanne and Fred Lister, Clarence and Josie Herbig, B. E. and Elaine Steimle, the C. M. Hutchersons, A. W. Stahls, etc.
